

Brooklyn Law School
ESTABLISHED 1901

Advocates for Adults with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (“AAIDD”) Legal Clinic

Free Legal Services for Adults with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

The AAIDD Legal Clinic provides free civil legal services for adults in a variety of issue areas including:

Housing
Medicaid/OPWDD Appeals
Special Education/Transition Planning
Access-A-Ride
Parental Rights
Alternatives to Guardianship
Discrimination in Housing, Employment & Access to Government Services

Who We Serve:

Area: Brooklyn and Manhattan

Language(s) Spoken: Can provide interpreters for all languages.

Income Guidelines: Services are provided to individuals aged 18 and over with an intellectual and/or developmental disability in NYC without regard to income. The office does consider income and resource issues in making priority decisions.

Eligibility Restrictions: for help, you must be an adult (18 and over) with an intellectual and/or developmental disability, or a family member.

Please call: 718-780-7994

Monday through Friday between 9a.m. and 5 p.m.
or e-mail clinics@brooklaw.edu to apply for services

The AAIDD Legal Clinic is a free legal services clinic at Brooklyn Law School where law students provide legal representation to adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities under the supervision of attorney faculty members at Brooklyn Law School.

In regards to services provided, the AAIDD Legal Clinic does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, sex, color, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, citizenship, marital status, age, national origin or disability.